Planview and Cprime: Agile Program Management Solution Bundle

The Teams of Teams or Agile Release Trains (ARTs) are the heartbeat of Agile at scale, taking the organization’s biggest priorities and delivering against them in an accelerated and predictable way. But delivering value like this requires practice, and it requires technology and solutions that ensure the teams stay aligned and coordinated all the way from strategy to delivery. That is where the Agile Program Management solution comes in. Scaling requires management and coordination of the work that is happening across your teams of teams or ARTs to deliver work in a predictable and valuable way.

Designed with the growing Agile organization in mind, the Planview and Cprime Agile Program Management solution is bundled to include the software, support, education, implementation services, as well as all the Agile coaching needed to enable Agile Program Management quickly and effectively. Whether you want to coordinate and facilitate Program Increment (PI) or quarterly planning, launch and manage Agile Release Train(s) (ARTs) or connect and consolidate your disparate Agile teams, the Agile Program Management bundle brings everything together inside highly configurable program boards for complete visual management of your Agile operation. Coupled with best-in-class Agile experts and coaches from Cprime, your Agile Program Management solution can be up, running, and well-managed in no time.

Enterprises that leverage Agile coaching expertise, along with a centralized solution for better planning, coordination, and delivery experience greater Agile transformation return on their investments by:

- Connecting a shared view of the business strategy to team-level delivery, ensuring what is delivered to the market directly impacts the bottom-line
- Reducing team costs by limiting re-work, prioritizing high-value work first, and pivoting toward better business decisions
- Maximizing and accelerating Agile team delivery by visualizing different work methodologies and processes for Kanban, Scrumban, and Scrum, in a single view
- Fostering collaboration and teams of teams or ART planning with a clear view of progress and cross-team dependencies across all Agile teams

What's Included?

Industry-leading Enterprise Kanban:

Planview LeanKit enterprise Kanban boards allow organizations to prepare for and facilitate PI Planning, easily breakdown to stories, and align work to teams for better visibility into priorities and cross-team dependencies. Additionally, LeanKit manages team and ART capacity, connects disparate Agile team tools, and shows progress for an entire Agile Release Train within a single board view. Out of the box, LeanKit provides Lean metrics to allow teams of teams to see bottlenecks, eliminate waste, and optimize their entire delivery process for increased efficiency and speed.

Easy Agile Tool Integration:

Whether teams use Atlassian Jira, Rally Software by Broadcom, Microsoft Azure DevOps, or Digital.ai (formerly CollabNet VersionOne), the Agile Program Management solution allows Agile teams to connect their tool of choice into a Program or Teams of Teams board with ease – enabling them to continue delivering value without disruption.

LeanKit Product Implementation and Enablement Services:

Make the most of your Agile Program Management solution with comprehensive Planview LeanKit services and product education. Delivered remotely and/or onsite, LeanKit product enablement services walk customers through Kanban basics and best practices, as well as, LeanKit board setup.
